

PONTIAC CLUB OF NORWAY

We have always contended that some of the greatest Pontiac lovers are those who enjoy their hobby far from the car's original source. In this case we hear from the Pontiac Club of Norway, who although founded only this year, has already grown to 150+ members. One of their Club outing events was the first Oslo Motor Show where they had a small display that included a 1978 Trans Am.

Cato Halvorsen reported that the organizers of the Oslo show were pleased with the attendance and the economics of the event, so their Pontiac Club plans to attend again. At the show their club attracted a lot of attention, and was able to increase their membership significantly. So although the Oslo Motor Show might be small by US or International standards, it is a pretty big event for the Norwegian car lovers.

The photos here show the Pontiac Club of Norway Oslo Motor Show display and their club leather jackets... which are some of the coolest Pontiac items we have ever seen!

Also show on the next page is Cato Halvorsen's beautiful 1958 Pontiac Star Chief. It is completely original except for the addition of Air-Ride suspension and the chrome reversed wheels. He says it needs a total renovation of paint and interior "to be nice," but we think it looks great just as it is. Presently it sees duty as a classy family cruiser. Check what happens in Norway when winter comes before you get your Pontiac into the garage—well, recently many US hobbyists have probably experienced the same thing.
